Maria was a normal 1 year old when she became sick. She became dehydrated from vomiting and diarrhea and was admitted to a Brooklyn Hospital. However, her electrolytes were not monitored and she became hyponatremic (low salt). She sustained brain damage with cerebral palsy & mental retardation. Senior Trial Attorney John Fitzgerald presented expert medical testimony that convinced the thoughtful Brooklyn jury to award damages for lifetime care.

Both before and after birth, the undeveloped brains of babies / children are particularly susceptible to insult and injury. This can result in:
