

BROOKLYN JURY AWARDS $5.35 MILLION TO LEAD POISONED GIRL VERDICT INCLUDES $55,000 FOR PRIVATE TUTOR

CONGRATULATIONS TO TRIAL ATTORNEY RANDI NASSAU and the entire Fitzgerald & Fitzgerald Lead Poisoning Team

Jacqueline is now 14 years old. When she was 1 - 4 years old she was lead poisoned from peeling paint in her apartment. The jury determined that as a result of her exposure to lead dust, she suffered learning disabilities, memory loss, and loss of I.Q. and has Attention Deficit Hyperactive Disorder. Randi convinced an attentive jury to make awards for loss of future earnings, medical monitoring, psychological counseling and general damages in addition to the award for tutoring costs. The verdict was reduced and the 7 figure judgement has been paid.

LEAD POISONING CAN DAMAGE YOUR CHILD'S BRAIN

Lead poisoning is totally preventable. Young children in older buildings become poisoned from lead paint through normal hand to mouth activities. Even low blood lead levels can cause:

- Learning Disabilities
  - Loss of IQ
  - Retardation
  - Hyperactivity
  - Attention Deficit Disorders

If your child has had elevated blood lead levels, make sure you select a law firm that knows how to try a lead poisoning case. Fitzgerald & Fitzgerald's track record speaks for itself. Call us even if another lawyer has rejected your case.
